Who is the greatest missionary who has walked the globe? Hudson Taylor or C T Studd who began the modern missionary movement. Or Paul the Apostle who began a Gentile church planting movement into Asia and Europe. Now what is the greatest evangelism group? Overseas Mission OM or Open Doors reaching into places that are difficult to get to.

The greatest evangelistic group who have saved more people than you any other is surprisingly closer than you realise. It's more close to home. It's Mother's Day 40 years ago when I put my hands in green paint and put them on a banner with a flower and a heart symbol which said Happy Mothers Day. It was Mother's Day in the back building at Carlingford Baptist Church Sunday School that I put this small token of love together and it had an affect on me. This gift helped me see how God saw mothers.

Yours in Christ,
Gavin Casey

May Mission Month

AEF International's strategy of Asians reaching Asians is far more cost effective than traditional missions. Indigenous missionaries are linguistically and culturally sensitive to the needs of their own peoples. In some countries where the door is closed to foreign missionaries this is the only strategy that works effectively.

AEF International's major ministries are evangelism, discipleship and church planting; additional ministries include theological education and community development in the forms of education centres, schooling and orphanages, a hospital, medical clinics and medical missions, as well as economically self sustainable programs such as agricultural farming produce and infrastructure projects such as roads and water supplies.

Dr G.D. James founded AEFI in 1960 and is now led by his son Dr Jonathon James. It is one of the largest national missions in Asia. AEFI has ongoing work in India, North East India, China, Nepal, Singapore, Indonesia, Myanmar, Philippines, Cambodia, Vietnam and the Solomon Islands.

Please remember to support the Projects for Muana and Villy in Thailand to the ethnic Thai people. For more details see over the page.

ELDERS UPDATE –

We thank God for leading us with the appointment of Sid Grindley as the interim senior pastor. We pray that as Sid commences on Monday 10 May that God will guide & sustain him as well as bless his ministry at Carlingford. Sid will be working three days a week, so let's pray he is led by God in setting his priorities each week & enabled by God to use his pastoral gifts as he serves God in this calling. Please also pray for Emma, David and Arthur as they work together with Sid.

We also encourage you to be praying for each of us as we take the next step in being a community led by and serving God with Sid as the interim Pastor.

An induction service for Sid will be held next Sunday, 16 May. Sid will be bringing the message as well at that service.

Please also uphold Jen, Sid's wife in prayer as they both get to know us better. There is an opportunity for us to meet up with Sid and Jen next Sunday 16 May between 3-5. Details are elsewhere in the Bulletin.

Thank God also for the opportunity our Mandarin ladies had to meet on Saturday 8 May for sharing & fellowship. Patsy, Amy, Jason & Alan

Prayer theme for May – Missionaries and their families

Wycliffe Translators has identified some helpful suggestions when praying for missionaries and their families.

They suggest we can pray for:

- open doors for the mission
- boldness
- God's word to be spread
- protection
- effective ministry
- travel arrangements
- refreshment and restoration

As we focus on praying for missions this month you might like to use these matters when praying for missionaries that we support.
